

REPRESENTATIVE PAYEE ACCOUNT

OVERVIEW GUIDE

01.

WHAT IS YOUR ROLE:

A Representative Payee is a person appointed to receive Social Security or SSI benefits for individuals who cannot manage or direct the management of their benefits. The primary duties of a payee include using the benefits to cover both the current and future needs of the beneficiary and properly saving any benefits that are not immediately required. Additionally, a payee must maintain records of expenses and document how the benefits were used or saved.

- More information about becoming a payee is available at www.ssa.gov/payee.

02.

GETTING PREPARED:

- Letter from the Social Security Administration regarding your designation as Rep Payee.
- Social Security Number and Date of Birth of the Beneficiary.
- Valid Identification for the Rep Payee.

Existing personal accounts cannot be converted into a Rep Payee account; a new account must be established.
